

The people of all Arkansas know just where this newspaper stands on the problem of public school finance — a position which this writer reinforced last year with the expenditure of $6,024.96 of his own money on a state-wide petition campaign.

It is only fair, therefore, to ask that some other folks be equally clear when traveling around the state and presuming to formulate a tax policy for the schools.

A year and a half ago there was a great beating of drums for an organization named the Citizens Committee for Better Schools which people were asked to support without being told anything about the policies they were committing themselves to. Only after the organization was recruited did we learn that its objective was to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent — a propaganda push that was finally defeated by a filibuster in the 1955 session of the legislature.

This writer had a head-on collision with the Citizens Committee in a legislative hearing over the proposed sales tax hike — and following its defeat the committee pointedly refused to help preserve existing school revenue against the political feed-exemption raid, leaving your editor to go it alone both as to money and organization in circulating that petition.

But this is another year, and another organization is traveling the state — the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education. Lee Roy Beasley of El Dorado, the state chairman, and others are scheduled to speak at Hope High School auditorium at 7:30 tonight (Tuesday) under the auspices of the PTA Council.

Mr. Beasley, unlike the leaders of a year and a half ago, has been doing some thinking out loud. My files show that on April 5 the Arkansas Democrat reported in a dispatch from El Dorado that Mr. Beasley gave as his personal opinion:

"The solution of the schools' financial problem lies in some kind of state tax — sales, income, liquor or other."

Mr. Beasley owes it to the integrity of his organization to explain to the home folks tonight exactly where GACE stands on the 3 per cent sales tax proposal.

Is the same state that now exempts animal feed from all sales tax going to increase the tax on groceries and medicine and clothes to 3 per cent?

The same Arkansas Democrat dispatch of April 5 indicates Mr. Beasley has small hope of getting any help for the schools from property tax. As the dispatch reports it:

"Beasley said that according to his group's findings that even should El Dorado's school millage be increased from the present 38 mills to 60 mills, the schools would still be operating, under present assessment practices, on something like $70 per child less than the national average. He said that his personal opinion was that increasing the millage was not the answer to the problem."

The stinger in that paragraph is the phrase "under present assessment practices."

And that brings me to the crucial point: Why is it that both the Citizens Committee of a year and a half ago and the GACE organization of today avoid property assessment reform like poison, and strike for a sales tax hike instead?

Citizenship, like charity, begins at home. But it's hard to do the assessing job at the district and county level when big talk can be had at the state and federal horizon.

The fact is, property's dollar support of education in Arkansas is a national disgrace. It has got to progressively worse ever since the 2 per cent sales tax was enacted 21 years ago — and I was one of the handful who spoke for the sales tax at the legislative hearing in 1935.

The record shows there is no permanent relief for our schools and teachers at either the federal or state levels. Other states paying heavy property taxes for the schools aren't going to give Arkansas federal money until we put our house in order at the local district level.

And our experience with 21 years of state aid through sales tax loans up the folly of loading responsibility for the schools on the shoulders of $600-a-year representatives and senators when we have much better paid men at the county level.

When the schools took their eye off the local assessment job and went to Little Rock for easy money they left the county and city governments with the prospect of starving to death on reduced property tax dollars. So the counties and cities followed the schools to Little Rock — and pretty soon the schools found their new wealth with chunks bitten out of it.

The combined "take" of the cities and counties from the State Revenue Stabilization Fund is now more than 5 million dollars a year. In calendar 1955 the City of Hope received $24,097.23 for its general fund, and Hempstead County

Armed Services Row to Get Full Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate committees plan separate investigations of the row among the armed services over their roles in war.

Secretary of Defense Wilson sought to head off any such inquiry in a news conference yesterday at which he was flanked by the civilian and uniformed chiefs of the various services. All sought to play down the seriousness of the squabble.

But today: Symington said the Army, Navy and Air Force will be called upon which centers on guided missiles policy.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM) got in first. He heads will make a study of the disagreement over basic defense policy.

Then Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) said his armed services subcommittee will go into the matter, which centers on guided missiles and air power.

Symington said the Army, Navy and Air Force will be called upon for testimony "as to their positions in the missile field." He added that the group also will go into the Navy's role in the field of air power, including what he called "Both its primary and secondary."

$14 Billion New Taxes for Roads Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved $14,400,000,000 in new taxes over a 16-year period to help pay for a vast roadbuilding program, and softened the tax impact on truckers.

By a one-vote margin, the committee also adopted an amendment proposed by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey which could have the effect of slowing down the rate of construction.

This amendment would limit the spending on highways to the money available in any given year.

For the most part, the committee accepted the new taxes voted by the House to finance the highway construction plan, largest in the nation's history. But it considerably modified one levy to which trucking firms had violently objected.

As passed by the House, this provision levied an annual tax of $1.50 per 1,000 pounds on trucks weighing 26,000 pounds or more. The Senate Committee voted to make the rate $2.50 per 1,000 pounds but to apply it only to the excess over 26,000 pounds.

Canning Firm Recruits Local Workers

Recruitment for workers for the Wisconsin vegetable harvest will get underway in the Hope Employment Office, Wednesday, May 23, Teddy Jones, local office manager of the Employment Security Division, indicated that a representative of the Green Giant Canning Company of Beaver Dam, Wisconsin wanted to hire a substantial number of male workers between the ages of 21 and 45.

Workers from this section were used during the 1955 harvest and a larger number are expected to be hired this year. "Transportation to the job, housing and feeding arrangements will be provided," Mr. Jones said.

In addition to the recruitment in Hope on Wednesday hiring of workers will be continued Thursday, May 24, at the Courthouse in Nashville.

Council Discusses Pollution Issue

Alleged pollution of Caney creek by the city-owned Proving Ground sewage system was the subject of a special meeting of Hope City Council last night.

Following a discussion between the council, plant representatives and residents of the area, the council voted to have tests made to establish if the water of the creek is actually polluted. No action will be forthcoming until the tests are made.

In other action the Airport Committee was authorized to contract painting and repair work on buildings at Municipal Airport.

$37,037.90 — a total of more than $61,000 that might have been available to the schools alone had they kept a dutiful eye on assessments back home . . . which are the cornerstone of local government.

4 Years of Garden Club Work Praised

Oglesby Grade School climaxed four years of Junior Garden Club work by being awarded four Certificates of merit for posters entered in the Bird Art Contest at the State Convention of Garden Clubs held recently in Hot Springs, according to Mrs. Carl Greenlee, Junior Garden Club Chairman.

The Iris Junior Club, sponsored by the Iris Garden Club, Mrs. Daniel Blake, Counselor, won a first and a second place award; first place going to Michael Poole and second place to Joe Hargis, both in the fourth grade. Mrs. James Ward is the fourth grade teacher.

The Pansy Junior Club, sponsored by the Dahlia Garden Club, Mrs. Carl Greenlee and Mrs. Joe Reese, Counselors, won a second place award and an Honorable Mention award; second place going to Carolyn Shields and Honorable Mention to Edith Powell. These girls are in the sixth grade and Mrs. Sidney Fricks is their teacher.

In the local flower show April 20th these two clubs carried away five ribbons for their entries. The first Junior Garden club was organized at Oglesby at the beginning of the 1952-53 term of school by the Dahlia Garden Club with Mrs. Greenlee and Mrs. Reese as Senior club counselors, with approximately one hundred members and given the name Pansy Junior Garden Club. The first year their only entry in the local flower show won a blue ribbon, and they have won ribbons in each show since that time. Two years ago they entered their first State Bird Art Contest and one of their entries won Honorable Mention. Last year an entry was awarded third place.

At the beginning of the 1955-56 term the club was divided and another club formed under the sponsorship of the Iris Garden Club with Mrs. Daniel Blake as senior club counselor.

The teachers at Oglesby school, headed by Mrs. Messer, the principal, have worked closely with the clubs in every project undertaken.

A film on "Structural Clay Products" was shown by Jack Gardener at yesterday's Lions Club luncheon at Hotel Barlow. The program was arranged by John L. Wilson. Donald Parker was reinstated as a member of the club.

Sevier County Youth Counts

DE QUEEN (AP) — Doyle Edward Armer, 17, drowned today in a shallow stock pond one mile northwest of here.

Members of the family said Armer was walking to a nearby store with his 11-year-old brother when he apparently suffered a seizure and fell into the pond. The body was recovered from about four feet of water by Fat Harris, an employee of the De Queen Gas Department.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Armer of near De Queen.

Work to Start on Saratoga, Fulton Road

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Work should begin within the next few days on a Hempstead County surfacing and bridge construction project, according to a work order issued May 18 by the State Highway Department.

The project is on Highway 55 beginning at Fulton and extending northwest, generally following the present location of Highway 55 to a point approximately 1.6 miles southeast of Saratoga. It consists of approximately 9.136 miles of grading, minor drainage structures, gravel base and double bituminous surface treatment and on slab span bridge.

Contract for the job was awarded to the Southeast Construction Company of Pine Bluff on May 9 by the State Highway Commission on a low bid of $27,619.34 and specifies 200 working days for completion.

M. A. Lynn, resident engineer with the Highway Department will supervise construction.

Postal Rate Hike Gets Committee Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Committee today approved a boost in postal rates which the Post Office Department estimates would cost the average letter writer family an additional 10 to 15 cents a month.

The increases proposed by the House Post Office Committee would hit hardest at magazines that carry a lot of advertising and are sent through the mails.

First class mail rates, now 3 cents an ounce, would go up to 4 cents. Airmail, now 6 cents an ounce, would rise to 7 cents.

The reported vote of the committee, which acted in closed session, was 13-8, with one member present and not voting.

Gentry's Title Change Not Okay by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The original ballot title and popular name for the proposed state constitutional amendment on horse racing at Hot Springs — the title advocated by the sponsoring Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce — was restored today by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The name "Hot Springs Horse Racing Amendment" will be used in the campaign for signatures to qualify the measure for the general election ballot.

The proposed amendment would give constitutional sanction to horse racing at the resort city. Races have been held there under legislative authority for the past 20 years.

In approving the popular name for the proposed amendment, Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry changed it to read "Amendment to Authorize Pari-Mutuel Gambling on Horse Racing at Hot Springs."

The sponsoring group petitioned the Supreme Court for restoration of the original title. The petition said that the word "gambling" is commonly associated by the public with illegal operations.

The general designation for the proposed measure was "misleading and tinged with partisan coloring."

The brief ruling merely stated that the original title and popular name were restored and did not comment further.

The ballot title is "An Amendment Authorizing Horse Racing and Pari-Mutuel Wagering Thereon in Hot Springs, Garland County, Arkansas, and Regulation Thereof by the General Assembly."

Gentry had re-phrased the title slightly and inserted the word "gambling."

Unemployment Compensation Pay Declines

LITTLE ROCK (Special). Unemployment compensation payments in Arkansas during April dropped to $828,328 from a March figure of $908,664 and an April 1955 total of $968,668, the state Labor Department's Employment Security Division reported today.

For the first four months of the year, unemployment pay has taken $3,084,913, compared with $3,341,859 in the comparable period of 1955. Taxes collected on payrolls and paid into the federal Treasury by the ESD for credit to Arkansas's account in the "trust fund," produced $2,306,547 during the four months. In 1955, during the same months, taxes were $2,178,543.

Requisitions are drawn on the federal Treasury by the ESD for payment of benefits to unemployed workers.

April payments in the various counties included: Hempstead, $5,421; Howard, $1,828; Lafayette, $2,808; Nevada, $6,975.

Group Reaches Compromise Soil Bank, Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate House committee reached a compromise today on a soil bank and farm bill to replace the catch-all measure President Eisenhower vetoed April 16.

The committee's decision is subject to approval by the House and Senate.

Details of the committee's actions were to be announced later. The group, headed by Sen. Ellender (D-La.), reached agreement in a session lasting less than two hours.

The conferees met for the first time yesterday shortly after being named by the two branches. Ellender Chairman Ellender (D-La.) would say only various proposals were discussed at the closed session. But from other sources it was learned a tentative compromise was shaped.

Under this the House would give way on the feed grains question — the most disputed provision in this second — round bill and the one to which the administration had objected violently as the House passed it.

There had been hints Eisenhower might veto any measure containing the House language, just as he killed on April 16 a previous catch — all farm bill. He objected chiefly to higher price supports it provided.

The House voted for price supports of 81 1/2 per cent of parity for 156 of the feed grains — oats, rye barley and sorghums — provided growers cut back their acreage 15 per cent. Parity is a legal price said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs. The House will now fix these supports in 157 at 5 percentage points below corn.

Farmers Plan to Circulate Petition

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An official of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation said today that 15 meetings were held in Arkansas last week in support of bureau-sponsored proposed state constitutional amendment.

The Bureau official, Waldo Frazier, said that no figures were available at present on the number of signatures obtained in the campaign to put the proposed state amendment on the general election ballot in November.

The proposed measure would preserve present apportionment of state senators and existing state senatorial districts. The Bureau believes that sparsely settled areas might not receive adequate representation in the General Assembly if senators continue to be reapportioned every 10 years on the basis of population.

A total of 33,513 signatures will be needed on petitions to put the measure on the ballot.

The ballot title and popular name were approved by the attorney general about three weeks ago.

Fire Destroys Six Texarkana Buildings

TEXARKANA (AP) — Six buildings were destroyed by fire at the now-closed Twin City Lumber Company here yesterday.

The origin wasn't determined, and no estimate was made of the monetary loss.

Fireman Joe Pope was overcome by heat during the 5-hour battle against the flames. Fireman George De Loch was bitten by a snake in the brush near one of the flaming buildings. Both were treated at a hospital.

The lumber company operated for 30 years until it was closed down last year.

Soviet Nuclear Peace Plan Is a Possibility

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today several U. S. scientists now visiting Moscow are convinced the Soviet Union has launched a nuclear energy research program for peacetime purposes that may outstrip U. S. efforts in that field.

In a dispatch from the Soviet capital, the Times said the Americans have come to the preliminary conclusion that Russia is shifting its intellectual resources from a military to a peacetime basis.

The Americans, who are attending an international atomic energy conference, were said to appear to believe without reservation that Russia now is second only to the United States in the quality and quantity of its scientific equipment for its research program.

The Times said the views of the Americans were stated in interviews with Dr. Robert E. Marshak of the University of Rochester, Prof. Abram Pais of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton, N. J., and Dr. Robert R. Wilson of Cornell University. The views were reflected in the opinions of other scientists in Moscow, the dispatch added.

The Americans quoted British and other foreign scientists as saying the equipment demonstrated by the Russians in the field of high-energy physics was superior to that available in their own countries. High-energy physics is the study of subatomic particles accelerated by so-called atom smashers to very high energy levels.

Segregationists to Hear Professor

CROSSETT (AP) — Clarence Manion, former professor of law at Notre Dame and an outspoken foe of strong central government will speak at a rally of segregationists at El Dorado Friday, a representative of James D. Johnson said today.

Phil Stratton, spokesman for Johnson, said that Manion was co-chairman of For America and director of a weekly radio news forum.

Manion was appointed chairman of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations by President Eisenhower in 1953, but the president demanded his resignation in January, 1954.

The meeting will be open to the public, Stratton said.

Johnson, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, also will speak at the rally.

Auto Layoffs Bring Appeals for Idle Pay

DETROIT (UP) — New appeals for federal aid to Michigan's unemployed were promised today in the wake of additional layoffs by the auto industry.

But there were no indications the government was already taking steps to ease the situation.

The latest layoffs were the result of production slashes by the General Motors Corporation and the Ford Motor Co. No estimate of the total number of workers laid off was immediately available.

Pat Quinn, vice president of United Auto Workers Union Local 3, here, yesterday, called for a mass meeting of the industry's unemployed for next Sunday when he heard of the latest production cuts.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (W)—Cotton futures displayed early firmness today. Trade and commission house buying found offerings light. The market later turned easy on reports of commission house liquidation which found demand less aggressive.

Late afternoon prices were 45 cents a bale higher to 65 cents lower than the previous close. July 34.75, October 32.50 and December 32.75.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO (W)—A highly irregular grain market with many crosses currents developed on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were fairly active.

July soybeans dropped nearly 10 cents at one time. That unsettled other soybean deliveries, although the new crop months were only a few cents lower.

Wheat was definitely weak even though it recovered partly toward the finish. This also was true of oats.

Old crop corn spurted a couple of cents and July oats, also, was strong. But new crop corn was under pressure, recovering a bit near the close.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower. July 32.06 1/2, corn 1 1/4 lower to 1 1/2 higher. July 52 3/4, oats unchanged to 1 higher. July 66 1/2, rye 2 1/4 to 3 cents lower. July 51.24 1/2, and soybeans 4 to 8 lower. July 33.12 1/2 to 33.14 1/2.

Several lots in Hope on the tax delinquent list were sold. Lot 4 in block 1 of Allen's Addition was purchased by John W. and Lillie Martin for $27.38 and lots 9 and 10, block 20, west of the railroad, were sold to C. A. Greenlee for $107.84.

New Bid Seen for Long Range Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (W)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the administration intends to make a new bid for its long range foreign aid proposal when the foreign aid bill comes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

At a news conference Dulles also told reporters that the U. S. government had arrived by deduction at the conclusion that Russia would cut its military man-power as was recently announced. He said Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev had not disclosed the fact at recent London conferences, as had been reported.

The report was that Khrushchev gave the word to Harold Stassen when the two met in the British capital.

Stassen told a news conference late last week the first word of the 1,200,000 announced reduction in Soviet armed forces had come to him from Khrushchev. Dulles drew a sharp distinction today between a "disclosure," which he said Khrushchev had not made, and a "deduction" which he said Stassen had made on the basis of information given him by Khrushchev.

This injected a new element of confusion into an already confused situation in which Stassen has dealt with the Soviet man-power cut as primarily a move in the direction of peace and disarmament and Dulles has talked about it as a maneuver to strengthen the Soviet economy and possibly Russian military power.

Elizabeth May Be Invited to Moscow

LONDON (W)—Two London newspapers speculated today that an exchange of letters between Queen Elizabeth II and Soviet President Klement Voroshilov might lead to an invitation for the Queen to visit Moscow.

The monarch's message to Russia's figurehead chief of state expressed "best wishes for your good health and the flourishing of the Soviet peoples." It was signed "Your good friend, Queen Elizabeth."

The message replied to a note Voroshilov sent the Queen when Premier Bulganin and Communist party head Nikita Khrushchev visited Britain last month. Moscow radio broadcast the texts of both messages.

Closure of the correspondence led the Daily Mail and the Daily Sketch to suggest that the Russians might follow through with an invitation to the Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, to visit the Soviet Union.

The Sketch quoted unnamed diplomats as believing "secret negotiations are going on to find out if an invitation would be acceptable" to the royal couple. It said no formal approach has been made but "unofficial soundings have been made in court and cabinet circles."

Both the Sketch and Mail support Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government.

Voroshilov's message to the Queen conveyed "cordial greetings and good wishes in the name of the people of the Soviet Union, the Presidium of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet and myself personally." It recalled the "joint struggle of the British and Soviet peoples" during World War II and added:

"The Presidium of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet is convinced that the strengthening of the ties of friendship and cooperation between the Soviet Union and the United Kingdom would be in the interests, not only of the peoples of our countries, but also of world peace."

Elizabeth's reply expressed "gratitude for this valuable expression of good will" and hope that the Bulganin-Khrushchev visit "will contribute to the improvement of friendship and mutual understanding between our two countries and peoples."

The senator's efforts to bring about an armistice with conservatives led by Gov. Allan Shivers ran into a mixture of heavy blows and cheers at a Johnson victory rally last night.

That discord carried over to the convention with the Harris County delegation's decision to carry to the convention floor its fight to oust the Shivers-dominated State Executive Committee. Harris County includes Houston, the state's largest city.

Johnson won party control in recent precinct and county conventions, which gave him a majority among delegates to today's convention. The State Executive Committee usually is not replaced until a September convention.

DOROTHY DIX

Try Mean Stepmother Technique Girls Choose Entertainment $200 Worth of Experience

Dear Dorothy Dix: After years of struggling alone as a widow, I thought my second marriage would bring peace and contentment. It was quite the contrary. When I married my present husband, he had a 21-year-old son, I had a 10-year-old boy. I had every intention of cooperation and expected the same from my husband and his son. Instead, the boy refuses to work, gives no money in to the house, and spends the day watching TV. How can I get him to realize his obligations without hurting his feelings? I'm very patient, but the sight of a grown boy sleeping all morning and sitting around all afternoon makes me nervous.

Dear Edda: This is one time when the fabled stepmother technique would come in hand of course. It's the father's place to straighten out his young loafer. Prodding on your part will probably cause resentment from our husband, but if nothing else succeeds, try it. Put the Help Wanted page in your stepson's hands, and sweep him out the door with the breakfast crumbs.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are two confused girls. Our boy friends call, ask us out, then expect us to decide where we shall go. It is proper for the girl or boy to make the decision?

BOTHERED AND BEWILDERED
Dear Bothered and Bewildered: Boys have a monopoly on the big questions, such as, "Will you go out with me?" and "Will you marry me?" but all lesser decisions are up to the girl. Naturally, you aren't expected to pick entertainment that's too expensive, or that the boys obviously wouldn't like.

Dear Dorothy Dix: For over

Circle No. 2; Mrs. Albert Graves, Circle No. 3; Mrs. L. B. Tooley, Circle No. 4; and Mrs. Claude Tillery, Circle No. 5.

The officers were asked to kneel at the altar for a dismissal prayer and consecration by the Reverend Keeley.

Golden Wedding Celebrated By
Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Durham
Among those from Hope who attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Durham in Prescott Sunday were:
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams, Mrs. George Dodds, Mrs. Jewell Moore, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Grady Williams, and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wardlaw, and Mrs. Mildred Dickinson.

Annie Hoover Circle Meeting
The Annie Hoover Circle of the WMU of the First Baptist Church met at 2 p. m. Monday May 21 at the home of Mrs. A. A. Halbert.

Mrs. W. H. Gunter opened the meeting with prayer and brought the devotional entitled, "Come." Reports were given by the various committees, and other business conducted.

Mrs. Hugh Jones taught the lesson from "Blind Spots," followed by the birthday prayer led by Mrs. A. T. Jewel.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the ten members present.

BYRON II
Dear Byron II: There's poetry and poetry, ranging from the very light, clever verse to unrhymed thoughts that only the author can understand. Fortunately for all would-be Byrons, Shelleys and Ogden Nashes, there's room for all. Get a copy of one of the magazines published for authors, such as Writer's Digest, or The Writer. They list markets, and offer advice on editing your stuff. If you're a light verse specialist, have you considered the greeting card market?

New Clear Plant Picked for Jobs

JONESBORO (AP) — A plant manufacturing plant, employing about 150 persons, will be in operation here soon, it was announced yesterday.

Mel McSwain, who formerly operated the McSwain Glass Co. here, said a new firm, the Arkansas Glass Container Corp., will utilize the old McSwain plant.

He said articles of incorporation listing authorized capital of $25,000 will be filed with the secretary of state.

McSwain, who will head the firm as president, said incorporators will include his son, Cal McSwain, and T. J. Robertson, J. M. White, and D. W. J. Verner.

SAFETY FEATURES? Sure, we've got 'em. But Dodge is designed to keep you out of accidents. You'll find out about "preventive safety" when you...

DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE IN DODGE!

Most dramatic proof of "power under perfect control" in automobile history! In 31,000 miles of continuous day-and-night driving at full throttle (like running the Indianapolis "500" 62 times in succession!) the '56 Dodge established its claim as the greatest handling car on the road today.

Even the windshield wipers are safer! They're electric—no dangerous "slow down" (like vacuum type!) when you step on the gas.

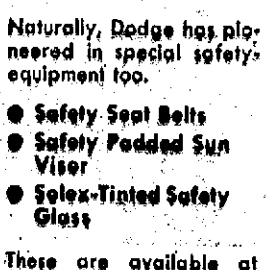

No "guess work" here—it's simple, sure, safe! Dodge push-button driving is mechanically perfect—the safest, surest way of driving! Control panel is out-of-reach of mischief or mistakes.

Take the terror out of blow-outs! Dodge Safety-Rim wheels let you guide your Dodge to a safe, sure stop.

Dodge power is your "safety ally!" The Dodge V-8 uses aircraft engine principles to put greater break-away power at your command.

These are available at extra cost. However, the preventive safety features described on this page are standard equipment—exclusive to Dodge in its field.

WOEBEGONE AND SOON-TO-BE-GONE—This calf, tied to a piano on the stage of the Perry High School in Pittsburgh, Pa., listens apprehensively to the auctioneer's "Going, going, . . ." chant that will decide its fate. The calf was only one of scores of items in the Biology Club's tenth annual sale. Contributed by celebrities all over the country, they ranged from the calf, roosters, pigs, dogs, goats through a Lily Dache hat and a Christian Dior gown to a piece of Wedgewood china autographed by Josiah himself and a pair of Sugar Ray Robinson's boxing gloves. Its first auction earned the club only $45. This year's netted $1200, the entire amount going to nursing scholarships, American Cancer Society, other charities and community projects.

Demos, GOPs Claim Oregon Fall Victories

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Republicans and Democrats analyzed the Oregon primary election results to day and both claimed signs of victory in the fall.

Their claims centered about the crucial Senate race between Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse and Douglas McKay, the recently resigned secretary of interior who won Republican nomination in the primary.

McKay campaigned strenuously to defeat Phil Hitchcock, a church leader and former state senator, and two lesser opponents. Democrats jubilantly pointed out McKay did not gain a majority of the Republican vote.

Nearly complete returns from the slow count gave McKay 118,103 votes to 121,531 for his combined opposition. That was about 49 per cent of the total. Hitchcock, who campaigned as a man who could win liberal voters away from Morse, had 94,943 votes.

Monroe Sweetland, Democratic national committeeman for Oregon, called this "the most significant result" of the primary, and added it was "a very good omen of Sen. Morse's victory in November."

Republicans were just as quick to point out that Morse's opponent on the Democratic ballot Woody Smith a political novice from Hood River, pulled 39,221 votes while Morse was running up 191,159.

Republican leaders interpreted

A CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM—Four-year-old Teresa Miwa leads new United States citizens in a Minneapolis federal court in reciting the pledge of allegiance to the flag. ## Opera Star Supports 'Rock-Roll'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Youthful addicts of rock-and-roll music received support from a surprising source today — Metropolitan Opera star Salome Baccaloni.

Here for his first Hollywood film role, the 5 by 5 Basso sounded off in favor of rocking rhythms that have been sending the younger crowd and exasperating their elders. "That's music!" ask the folks who have been reared on the more disciplined strains of Benny Goodman, Glenn Miller and others.

"Sure, that's music!" replies the lusty Baccaloni. "Anything that springs from the heart of the people is music, and that's what rock-and-roll is. It expresses the feeling of the younger generation. I like to listen to it myself."

"The trouble with older people is they won't accept change. Like when an American company was invited to play 'Porgy and Bess' at La Scala. Well, you should have heard the uproar. After all, La Scala was the home of Verdi and Puccini; they thought it was sacrilege to invite an American jazz opera."

"But when 'Porgy and Bess' played there, it was a tremendous hit. And why? Because people realized it was true music—it came from the heart of a people."

Baccaloni observed that rock-and-roll was nothing new. He illustrated with a few strains from "Don Giovanni" which proved that Mozart was a pretty solid singer, too. The singer added that the current rhythms also stem back to the barcaroles of his native Italy, which got their rock-and-roll tempos from being sung in gondolas. It figures.

Bright Girl Downfall to Miss Minnie

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A bright young girl who knew what book-keeping was all about may have been the downfall of Minnie Mangum, the million-dollar embezzler.

The 52-year-old spinster with the kind heart pleaded guilty yesterday to taking $1,062,866 from the Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn. of Norfolk over a 22-year period.

An assistant secretary-treasurer Miss Minnie handled the books and liked to hire girls who knew "her system" of card accounting.

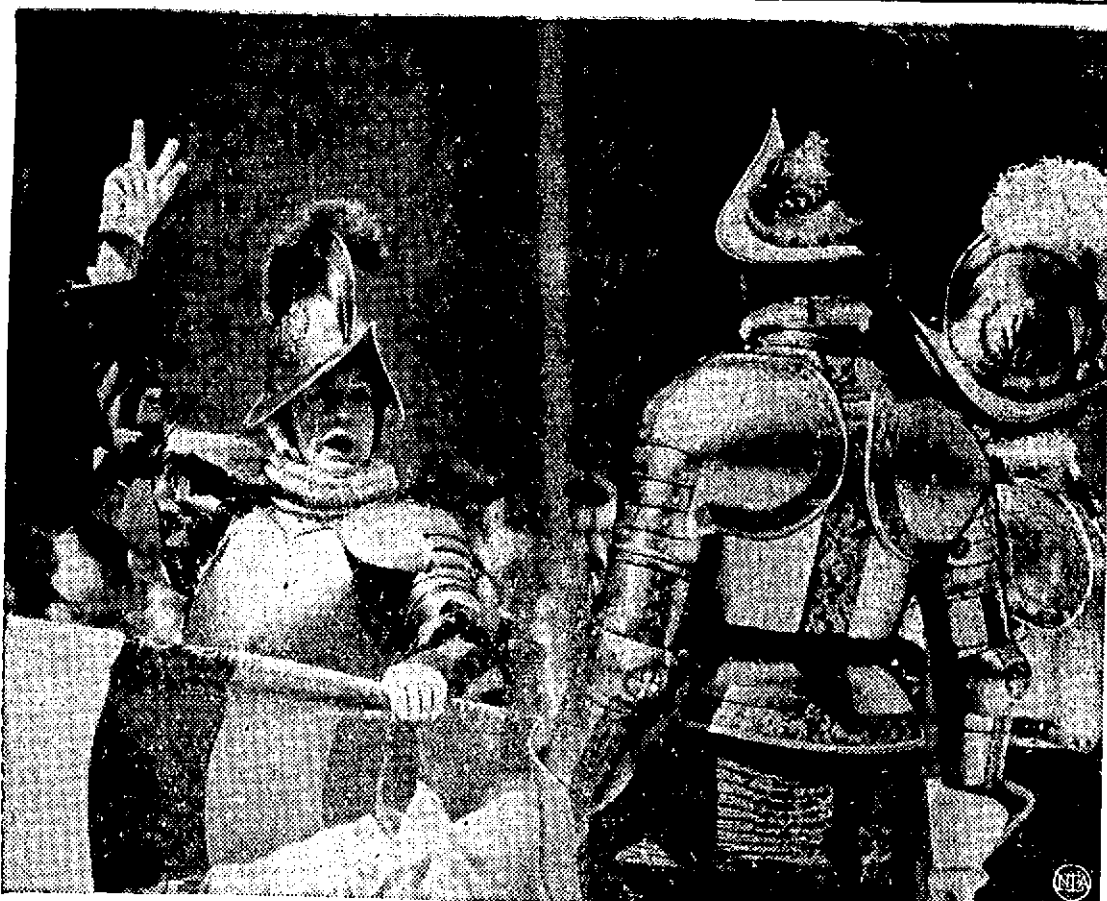

Last September she hired Mrs. Robert G. Cannon, wife of a sailor, stationed at the big naval base here. Mrs. Cannon, 21, had worked at building and loan firm back in her home town of Waukegan, Ill.

From the start, she didn't like the way Miss Minnie handled the accounting system.

One day in November, while a group of state auditors were in the office, the two women quarreled over a missing account card and Mrs. Cannon called Miss Minnie a liar for saying she didn't know about the card.

Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Cannon was out of a job. But she told the auditors all she knew.

And on Dec. 16, they swooped down in a surprise check on Com-

Cash smiled with a dry, frail bend of his mouth. "We'll sink our spurs in that crew later."

TH STORY: Frank Ude joins a trail outfit driving horses through the hills. It is attacked and Frank stays behind to help fatally wounded, Ed Rambaut, who tells him a way to escape. After Ed dies, Frank makes his way out of the canyon.

Chapter II

Frank Ude found the narrow canyon mouth that Rambaut had talked about. He passed a shoulder of rimrock and leaped for the opening. The thought went flashing through his head that a on. What else can we do now? Yates has got his arm shot bad and Ed's dead. Let's ride south and meet again in Cashtown three days from now."

Frank thought then as he drew himself aboard the big gelding that Cash gave up his horses too easily. There was no fear in the man, he was sure of that. But an outfit such as the Cash crew didn't choose their separate trails back to the home ranch. If these were actually Cash's horses he would die in an attempt to avenge this raid. Frank didn't consider his bunch licked this bad. It sent a wave of anger through him.

He asked sharply, "Who were the raiders, Emmett?"

"Your guess, Frank."

"You surely know!"

There was a heavy moment of stillness when he saw the hardness of Emmett's mouth gradually unlimber, until he thought the man would laugh. At him, he wondered, for giving an impression of greenness? Then Emmett shook his head. "I don't know," he insisted stubbornly.

Frank touched rowel points to his gelding urging him about. The chestnut was in a bad sweat and breathing heavily. This was a great horse, with deep chest and strong horse, that could keep him cowhorse gave up fighting. Frank had seen Emmett's interest build in the gelding many times since yesterday. But the chestnut had been a week without grain, and ridden so hard that now in any run before the raiders' horses he wouldn't have a chance. Frank felt his anger strike constantly deeper at Emmett, suspecting him a liar. Every man in this outfit knew why they had been raided except himself. Unsmilingly, he threw a fresh question at Cash.

"Were they your horse string?"

Emmett's answer came immediately. They were. For delivery at Fort McHenry. Frank'll not stand being questioned again."

They ride stirrup to stirrup until the canyon opened into a wide valley running parallel to the one in which they had been surprised by the raiders. It was sooty dark here, with plateaus of granite standing dark and forbidding on either hand. His way for miles to the breaks would be for miles to the westward; it was an excellent country for eluding pursuit. Frank noted as he keened the stillness there was the faintest sound of the raiders closing behind them.

Emmett pulled in and sat with his weight shifted, studying him in a sober look. Finally he made his decision.

"We split here. I'm riding on after Yates and have a look at his arm. Try not to forget I came back after you."

"Because of Ed Rambaut," Frank murmured quietly.

"Maybe, I pulled you out of a kettle—don't forget it. We'll meet in three days at Cashtown. It's a half day's ride east of the spot you joined us in case you're not sure of this country."

Emmett's eyes were still searching some tell-tale revelation to his expression and Frank knew he puzzled the man. Ed Rambaut had tried to reach unsuccessfully into his past, and Emmett, he knew, wanted to know the same answers but hadn't asked outright. It would have to lie the way it was; yesterday he had unexpectedly cut the trail of Cash's string heading north, they had been disposed to find a place for him in the crew, probably because they read in him a certain toughness that was necessary to their profession. Now he wondered about that profession while they in turn wondered just how tough he could be.

Frank let a moment slide. "Don't your range ever run dry? Do you just let riders slope in and steal what they want, then ride back after another string?"

Emmett's head went back and his laugh rolled through the breaks. Frank couldn't see his face in the darkness, but he visualized the broad mouth parted

Higher Prices for Coffee Brewing

NEW YORK (AP)—Higher retail coffee prices are brewing.

Producers of major brands increased their wholesale prices as much as 4 cents a pound yesterday.

Soon after, a spokesman for several of the big super-market chains said the increase are certain to be passed on to retail consumers. He said it may take 10 to 14 days, however.

General Foods Corp. started the new round of price boosts lifting the wholesale price of its Maxwell House vacuum-packed coffee 2 cents a pound to 99 cents. This almost wiped out a price cut of 3 cents a pound made last March.

Other processors of "brand name" coffees were quick to follow. Two of them—S. A. Schonbrunn & Co. distributors of Savarin coffee and Old Dutch Coffee Co.—raised their prices 4 cents a pound.

Albert Ehlers, president of Albert Ehlers, Inc., attributed a 2-cent rise in the price of that company's coffee to higher prices charged South American shippers. Brazilian prices "have been Editor the Star: I wrote you once before to have you express to some of your carriers my appreciation for being so nice to me.

You know I'm still in a wheel chair from being hit by a car in 1953. And may be, for almost another year because of another leg operation I am to have soon now.

Of course my time is spent in a wheel chair and on the bed. To while away some of the tiresome hours I'll sit on the porch in the late evening, and if I am out there when the paper boys come along they always go out of their way to bring the paper to me even to the extent of getting out of the car and handing it to me. I think it is such a nice gesture and I appreciate their thoughtfulness and consideration very much.

Thank you, I am sure all your carriers are nice considerate boys. Mrs. M. B. Gentry, H-Way 4.

Court Ruling to Bring New Labor Battles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Management and organized labor pledged new battles today over compulsory union membership after a Supreme Court decision sanctioning the union shop in the railroad and airline industries.

Spokesmen for management said they would continue to fight for state and federal laws to ban union contracts requiring workers to be members and pay dues to labor unions.

Union sources, on the other hand, expressed renewed determination to scrap any new bans and to work for repeal of present "right-to-work" laws in 18 Southern and Western states. These laws say membership or nonmembership in a labor union shall have no effect on a person's right to hold his job.

The Supreme Court ruled un-

Russian Planes Spreading Out

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A Russian plane is rapidly getting to be standard equipment for Asia and Middle Eastern governments.

announced yesterday. In passing a Nebraska Supreme Court decision, that state "right-to-work" laws don't apply to workers in the railroad and airline industries. The situation stems from the fact that Congress, in enacting the Taft-Hartley labor-management law in 1947, sanctioned the union shop, but allowed individual states to outlaw it. Eighteen states did so.

in the forest) during the hunt, sold off his dogs. The old man couldn't stand this, particularly the loss of a small black and tan-coon dog named Trixie.

He told his boy who sold Trixie, "Son, you have lived with your paw too long."

The boy moved away. Later another son in the family died and the boy came back.

The father refused to sleep in the same house with him. He slept in the barn. As soon as the funeral was over, the father said to the boy who had sold his dog, "Son, it is time you moved on."

He never forgave his son for selling his favorite dog, even though the neighbor who bought Trixie for $25 said, "You can hunt with her as long as she can work, and I'll tell you she'll have an easy death."

This is a true mountain story. Trixie is dead now and so is the old man, the everlasting hunter. I do not know what happened to the loyal son, who did only what he thought was best for his father. He probably works in a city, far from the mountains of home he remembers.

U. S. Population Increasing Fast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau today estimated the U. S. population April 1 at 167,440,000, including armed forces overseas.

The bureau said this was a gain of 16,308,000, or 10.8 per cent, over the 151,132,000 April 1, 1950, when the latest census was taken.

It estimated 10 per cent of the net population gain the last six years was accounted for by a net civilian immigration of 1,700,000 during the period.

The bureau said approximately 23½ million babies were born in the period 1950 through 1955. This was almost as many as the total number of births in the decade 1930-40. A total of 4,091,000 births last year was a record high.

South Terms Civil Rights Bill Shocking

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A majority of House Judiciary Committee members endorsed the Eisenhower Administration's civil rights bill today as an effort toward "the great American ideal of equality under law."

But seven Southern committee members—six Democrats and one Virginia Republican—denounced the bill as "absolutely shocking." They said it posed a "Frankenstein" threat against state and local governments.

The majority and minority reports reflected deep differences over the volatile civil rights issue. The minority report was made public yesterday.

The bill, drawing more than usual attention this election year, was approved by the 32-man committee April 25. The vote count was not announced at the time.

The measure still awaits clearance by the House Rules Committee. Whether it will be sent to the House and win passage there remains to be seen. In any event, it is believed unlikely to pass the Senate, where Southern filibusters have doomed other civil rights measures in the past.

The bill's provisions, recommended by Atty. Gen. Brownell, include:

1. Creation of a special commission on civil rights, to be appointed by the President. Its duties would include investigation of charges that citizens are being deprived of their right to vote or put under economic pressure because of color, race, religion or natural origin. The commission would be armed with subpoena powers.
2. Setting up of a new civil rights division in the Justice Department to be headed by an assistant attorney general.
3. Power for the attorney general to take civil rights cases to court in civil, or "preventive," actions, regardless of whether the injured party has exhausted state court remedies first. Also, an individual who felt his right to vote was being curtailed or threatened could go to federal court without first exhausting state remedies.

with an announcement that the Air Force's role in the field of air missions.

Symington, in broadening what started out as a study of the Air Force and its capabilities as compared to those of Russia referred to air problems currently in controversy among the three military services as to their respective roles of the Army and Air Force of air power.

Controversies within the armed services revolve principally around the roles of the Army and Air Force in ground-to-air and medium range missiles, and the air power roles of the Air Force and the Navy.

Symington said his subcommittee already has received behind closed doors hundreds of pages of testimony as to the air power mission of the Air Force in the field of manned aircraft and guided missiles.

Further testimony, he said, will be taken on the position of the three services in the missile field.

Symington announced that Gen. Earle Partridge, commanding general of the Air Defense Command and Continental Air Command, will testify in open session Thursday. Symington said Partridge already has testified in executive session, and that his testimony Thursday "will describe our country's existing and prospective defenses against air attack by a possible enemy."

Wilson said he doesn't think a congressional investigation is needed or that it would do any good.

"I wouldn't think so," he said in reply to a question. "I have confidence that I'm getting my military advice from the right people. I think the country thinks so too."

Chavez, who had said earlier he thinks top officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force are acting like prima donnas, told a reporter today:

"We plan to have the high brass of all three services in here, and ask them why is it they are bickering."

Wilson described the new public row as a "little hurricane" and said he wants to end it before it becomes serious. "I think," he said, "the eager beavers are gnawing down some of the wrong trees." He declined to elaborate.

Wilson was flanked at the news conference by the secretaries of the three services and the four members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"There will always be some differences of opinion within and between the services in connection with military operations," he said. "Honest differences and reasonable competition between the miltary services are healthy and will result in stronger defense establishment.

Compensation Claim Denied

"It is not good for the country, however, to have the differences, some of which are set forth in confidential staff papers, aired on a basis of service partisanship without giving the proper responsibility the opportunity to weigh all the factors involved."

The trouble broke out Saturday with the publication of several news stories based on papers "leaked" by still unidentified officers whom Army and Air Force chiefs described yesterday as colonels or people of lesser rank. One of these pictured current emphasis on air power as leading to dis-

Weatherman Gives Preview of Summer

By United Press

The weatherman forgot about spring today and treated most of the nation to a preview of summer.

May weather has vacillated between wintry and summery temperatures shoving aside the mold, pleasant days which are supposed to come with spring. Today was no exception.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 60's or higher. The mercury was in the 70's before dawn throughout the nation's south-central portion and as far north as Illinois and Kansas. Records wilted in the unseasonable hot spell yesterday. New marks included 83 degrees at Columbia, Mo., 97 at Kansas City, Mo., and 95 at Concord, Kan. It was 88 at Williston, N. D., and 92 at Sioux City, Iowa.

A mild cool front tried to dent the heat, setting off thunderstorms in the northern midwest last night and dropping the temperature 17 degrees in Milwaukee, Wis., in one hour. More thunderstorms, mixed with hail, rumbled over Findlay, Ohio and Niagara Falls, N. Y. In the West, the swollen Koot-nal river burst through a big dike below Bonners Ferry, Idaho, and threatened to pour over 3,700 acres of floodlands today.

At least 15 families were evacuated and the city's domestic water supply was knocked out. A portable filtration unit was used as a stop-gap.

More Army units hurried from Fort Lewis, Wash., to help fight the floodwaters. However, officials said they do not believe the city itself is in great danger.

Number on Welfare Down by 1,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The number of state welfare clients is about 1,000 below that of a year ago, state Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said yesterday.

Adams said 70,359 persons will receive welfare checks in June compared to 71,360 last year.

The biggest decline is a 600 decrease in aid to dependent children, he said.

Aid to the permanently totally disabled has increased 400 from a year ago. The present total is 8,398.

Old age assistance checks are down about 200 to 54,411, Adams said, while aid to the blind totals 2,016 "or about the same as a year ago."

Negroes Plead Innocent at Texarkana

TEXARKANA (AP) — Four young Negroes are to be tried here June 25 for the fatal beating of 76-year-old M. R. Ham during a $8 robbery.

The four pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of first degree murder. Circuit Judge Lyle Brown ordered pre-trial mental examinations.

The defendants are Roger Boone, 24; James Bofd, 19; James Moore, 23, and Willie Byrd, 23, all of near Mandeville.

Ham's battered body was found in a rural area near Texarkana last week, several days after he had disappeared.
